6 JOSHUA KENNETH LEONARD,

7 Petitioner,

8 v.

9 KARIN ARNOLD,

10 Respondent.

C25-5325 TSZ

ORDER

11 THIS MATTER comes before the Court on the Report and Recommendation
12 (“R&R”) of the Honorable Theresa L. Fricke, Chief United States Magistrate Judge, 13 docket no. 6, and the objections to the R&R filed by petitioner Joshua Kenneth Leonard, 14 docket no. 7. Having reviewed the R&R, petitioner’s objections, and the decisions of the 15 Washington Court of Appeals and Department I of the Washington Supreme Court
16 concerning petitioner’s direct appeal, see State v. Leonard, 32 Wn. App. 2d 1051, 2024
17 WL 4440954 (2024), review denied, 4 Wn.3d 1011, 564 P.3d 549 (2025), the Court 18 enters the following order.

19 Discussion

20 Petitioner was convicted of attempted rape of a child in the second degree and 21 communicating with a minor for immoral purposes. See 2024 WL 4440954, at *1. He 22 was arrested after arriving at a location suggested by undercover law enforcement 23 personnel posing as an underage girl on a website known as Skout. Id. Petitioner is

1 serving a sentence of 96 months to life at the Stafford Creek Corrections Center in 2 Aberdeen, Washington. See id. at *4; see also Prop. Pet. for Writ of Habeas Corpus 3 (docket no. 1-2).

4 On direct appeal, the State of Washington conceded that the trial court erroneously
5 imposed a crime victim penalty assessment, a DNA collection fee, and a community
6 custody condition restricting “romantic” relationships. 2024 WL 4440954, at *1 & *4.
7 Petitioner raised four other grounds pro se, all of which were rejected by the Washington
8 Court of Appeals, see id. at *5–9, and none of which are repeated in his federal habeas 9 petition, see Prop. Pet. for Writ of Habeas Corpus (docket no. 1-2). On March 5, 2025, 10 only four months ago, the Washington Supreme Court denied a petition for discretionary 11 review, see 4 Wn.3d at 1011, and the issues presented on direct appeal have been 12 exhausted.

13 In his current habeas petition, petitioner states only one ground for challenging his 14 incarceration, namely denial of counsel at a critical stage. See Prop. Pet. for Writ of 15 Habeas Corpus (docket no. 1-2 at 6). Petitioner contends that he was arraigned on 16 August 25, 2022, without representation by an attorney. Id. This issue was not raised on 17 direct appeal. It could still, however, be timely presented to a Washington court in a 18 Personal Restraint Petition (“PRP”), and thereby be properly exhausted for purposes of 19 seeking federal habeas relief. See RCW 10.73.090 (a collateral attack may be filed 20 within one year after a judgment becomes final). Thus, the Court is not persuaded that 21 dismissal of this matter, as recommended in the R&R, is the appropriate approach.

22 Rather, the Court will stay this matter while petitioner pursues collateral relief in the state

1 court system. If, after petitioner completes the PRP process, he wishes to further pursue 2 this matter, he shall file an amended petition for writ of habeas corpus, brought pursuant 3 to 28 U.S.C. § 2254 (not 28 U.S.C. § 2241), setting forth the dates on which he filed his 4 PRP, the Washington Court of Appeals issued its decision, and the Washington Supreme 5 Court either denied discretionary review or issued an opinion on the merits of the PRP.
6 In such amended petition for writ of habeas corpus, petitioner may add any other grounds
7 raised in his PRP and any subsequent motion for discretionary review.

8 Conclusion

9 For the foregoing reasons, the Court ORDERS:

10 (1) The R&R, docket no. 6, is REJECTED, and this matter is STAYED while 11 petitioner pursues collateral relief in the state court system. This case is REFERRED 12 back to Chief Magistrate Judge Fricke for further proceedings, including monitoring the 13 progress of the PRP process, issuing requests for status updates as needed, and addressing 14 at the proper time petitioner's motion for leave to proceed in forma pauperis and his 15 request for stand-by or appointed counsel.

16 (2) The Clerk is directed to send a copy of this Order to all counsel of record, 17 petitioner pro se, and Chief Magistrate Judge Fricke.

18 IT IS SO ORDERED.

19 Dated this 3rd day of July, 2025.
